HITLER TEARS UP TREATY OF COMPIEGNE AND SENDS HIS TROOPS INTO UNOCCUPIED FRANCE; PETAIN PROTESTS GERMAN MOVES

Latest Reports on Developments in Europe Encourage Hope That France May Soon Re-Enter War on Side of Allies—Petain Notifies Armed Forces of France They Are Free to Defend Themselves—French Troops Reported Fighting Italians

(By International News Service)

Historic events overlapping themselves today in developments arising from American occupation of North Africa. These included:

1—In a desperate attempt to forestall Allied invasion of Europe, Adolf Hitler tore up the 1940 Treaty of Compiègne, sent his troops into unoccupied France and took over Napoleon's island birthplace of Corsica.

2—German planes and air-borne troops were landed in Tunisia with the claim that American troops already had attacked that territory.

3—Casablanca surrendered and Americans throughout Morocco and Algeria consolidated their positions and drove toward Libya.

4—Chief of State Marshal Henri Philippe Petain protested the new German moves.

5—A British submarine carried out a successful attack against three enemy cruisers and three destroyers in the Mediterranean. Whereabouts of the French fleet based at Toulon was not known, and the Italian navy likewise was missing. There is a possibility the torpedoed vessels may have been French.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11—(INS)—Latest reports on the swift moving developments in Europe today encouraged the hope in official circles in Washington that France may soon re-enter the war on the side of the Allies.

Official Washington was elated by reports that Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, French Chief of State, had notified the armed forces of France that they were free to defend themselves presumably against Germany as a result of Hitler's move to occupy all of France in violation of the Compiègne armistice.

Rumors that French troops already have attacked Italian forces on the southern French frontier also cheered official circles.

It is now believed that the United Nations stand a good chance of winning over the French fleet to the Allied cause. In view of the German move to occupy all of France, the hope prevails in official quarters in Washington that Admiral Jean Darlan, former commander of all Vichy forces, who is now a "guest" of American military authorities in Algiers, may be persuaded to appeal to the French fleet to join the Allies.

NEW YORK—The former Vichy correspondent of National Broadcasting Company, who now is at Berne, Switzerland, reported today that French troops are fighting Italian forces following a declaration by Chief of State Marshal Henri Philippe Petain that German occupation of France leaves the country "free to defend herself."

He did not state specifically whether France would defend herself against the Axis or an attempted Allied invasion, NBC said.

The correspondent, Paul Archinard, based his statements on "telephonic information" from Vichy.

To "Picture" Europe

REV. CHARLES E. LUNN

Author, Lecturer and Preacher, who will show films of European countries in First Baptist Church Thursday evening.

TO SHOW COLORED FILMS AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Charles E. Lunn Will Lecture Here Tomorrow Evening

PUBLIC IS INVITED

The Rev. Charles E. Lunn, author, lecturer, and preacher, will be at the First Baptist Church, tomorrow evening at 7.30, to speak and show pictures.

The Rev. Lunn traveled through nine European countries just prior to opening of World War II. During this trip he took pictures of many of the historical buildings and cathedrals, many of which have been since destroyed. These pictures in natural color are perhaps among the most rare selections of recent Europe, and form 1½ hours of motion pictures in natural color. During the picture Rev. Lunn will lecture on "Seeing Europe In A Time of Crisis."

Features of the pictures: England Preparing for War, The Cooperatives of Norway, Sweden, and Denmark; World Conference of Christian Youth in Holland; Germany with her Regime; Italy; Gondola Rides, Leaning Tower of Pisa; scenes in the Beautiful Swiss Alps; Pictures of the First French Mobilization, and other beautiful and educational scenes.

The proceeds will go to the Baptist Home for the Aged.

Need Volunteers To Make Surgical Dressings Here

Officials of the Bristol Branch of the Red Cross are asking for volunteers to make surgical dressings for the War Department for use of the U. S. Army and Navy.

This work will be carried on at the Community House, Dorrance street, each Tuesday and Wednesday from 10 a. m. to four p. m. Anyone who can give an hour or two or longer period of time will be most welcome either or both days.

The local workers have completed 2,000 first aid dressings which were turned over to the schools here for local use in any emergency. These dressings were sterilized locally. The material had been purchased by the school board.

There were also made here 2,000 first aid dressings which were placed at Red Cross headquarters on Mill street for local use.

The following women have completed more than 50 hours' work in surgical dressings and aid in instruction: Mrs. Sidney Longbottom, Mrs. Robert Reed, Mrs. Clement McCarron, Mrs. Willard Bartoe, Miss Charlotte Betz, Miss Winifred Tracy, Mrs. Klaiher, Mrs. Samuel Pearson.

Two Speakers To Share Falls P. T. A. Program

FALLS, Nov. 11—Dr. Ruth Fedder and Miss Genevieve Bowen will share a program this evening when the Parent-Teacher Association of Falls Township conducts a meeting in the school building.

"Helping Our Children to Decide Their Futures" will be the subject of Dr. Fedder, who is a psychologist working in the Bucks County Office of Education. Miss Bowen is also a member of the staff, she being director of elementary education.

CONCERT TICKETS

It is requested by officers of the Bristol Co-operative Concert Association that any members who have not received their membership cards of admission to the 1942-43 series of concerts telephone Mrs. Russell DeLong, Bristol 2389.

FORMS NOW READY FOR REGISTRATION OF PASSENGER CARS

All Motor Vehicles Must Be Registered Under New Law

DATES ARE ANNOUNCED

Registration Takes Place On November 19th and 20th In Schools

Doron Green, president of the Bristol Rationing Board, announced today that the blank forms which are to be used in connection with what the O. P. A. calls the "Tire Record and Application for Basic Mileage Ration Books 'A' or 'B,'" have been received, and are now ready for distribution.

In plain words this refers to a registration that will be made of all passenger cars on November 19-20. The owner of a passenger vehicle must fill out this form, giving the license number of the car, State of registration, year, model, make and body type.

Also in a space provided he must list the serial numbers of the tires mounted on the vehicle described in this application (including one spare tire). In another place must be given the class and serial number of the gasoline books outstanding for use in connection with the vehicle.

On the lower part of the form which will be detached on the day of registration, will be found a box in which must be recopied the serial numbers of mounted tires, including one spare.

On or before December 1, every owner of a passenger car must have his tires examined by a certified inspector, who will list the numbers of the five tires in the space provided on the lower half of the registration blank, which part is to be retained by the applicant.

The Rationing Board has a number of these forms on hand and all certified Continued on Page Four

STRESSES PART THAT STRONG MORALE PLAYS

"Strengthening Morale For Victory" Title of Student's Article

FOR EDUCATION WEEK

The third in a series of articles written by students of Bristol high school, and marking American Education Week, is herewith presented. It is entitled "Strengthening Morale for Victory."

By Mary Elizabeth Finegan, 10-A

Morale is the will to persevere and win over every obstacle. It is largely the state of mind of an individual or group with reference to loyalty, discipline, cheerfulness, tenacity, initiative, resourcefulness, enthusiasm, and kindred qualities. Morale is usually referred to as high or low, depending upon the state of mind. This state of mind can be ready and willing or contrary to the acceptance of conditions and to the performance of tasks.

The American people are prepared to fight this war to a successful conclusion. Very few doubt that we will Continued on Page Four

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

British "Sub" Successfully Attacks 6 Enemy Ships

London—A British submarine in the Mediterranean today "successfully attacked" three enemy cruisers and three destroyers. (Nationality of the ships was not disclosed. There has been no announcement that the French fleet has left Toulon or that Italy's navy has come out of hiding.)

An Admiralty communique said: "One of His Majesty's submarines operating in the Mediterranean reports she has carried out a successful attack against an enemy force of three cruisers and three destroyers."

Axis Forces Attack Over 100-Mile Span in Africa

Cairo—Scattered Axis forces are under attack over a span of 100 miles in Egypt and Libya, a Middle East command communique reported today as the main remnants of Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's army dashed along the coastal highway.

Enemy rear guards were under attack Tuesday in the vicinity of Bud Buq, 30 miles inside the Egyptian border, while Allied planes blasted fleeing Axis transport columns near Tobruk, 100 miles to the west.

Italian Coastal Zone Evacuated; Fear Invasion

London—A Renter dispatch from the French frontier today reported that the Italian coastal zone from Genoa to Spezia is under evacuation owing to fears of an Allied invasion.

Samuel Schepesi Dies; Funeral To Be Friday

Samuel Schepesi, husband of Josephine Schepesi, died in St. Francis Hospital, Trenton, N. J., yesterday, following a brief period of illness. He had resided here for the past five years.

Mr. Schepesi is survived by his wife, and the following children: Anna, Nicholas, Joseph, Victor, Anthony, John and Dominick, all of Bristol.

Relatives and friends are invited to attend the funeral on Friday at nine a. m., from his late residence, 404 Dorrance street. High Mass will be said in St. Ann's Church at 10 o'clock. Interment in Holy Cross Cemetery, Philadelphia, will be in charge of Galzerano, funeral director.

HIGHWAY DEPT. BLDGS. ARE OFFERED FOR SALE

Group Includes 6 Structures In Langhorne; Also Land Arrangements

SEALED BIDS RECEIVED

LANGHORNE, Nov. 11—Six buildings which were formerly occupied by the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, and which are located on Green street, are to be sold.

It is stated that at least one of the structures is very well suited for use in manufacture of various types of war materials, or for storage, garage or repair shop facilities.

It is further stated that satisfactory arrangements for land settlement can be made with the owner of the property. The buildings are located on a plot of land owned by Leroy Wells, Philadelphia. The State Highway Department had leased the land.

The State Highway Department formerly operated its maintenance department for Bucks county in these buildings which are located a short distance from Maple avenue. The maintenance plant and additional shops and store rooms are now located at the Highway Department's well-equipped plant at Doylestown.

Sealed bids for the buildings are being received in Room 186, State Capitol, Harrisburg, until 10 a. m., November 17th.

The buildings were erected in 1919, and are very desirably located. One of the larger buildings is 40 by 80 feet and constructed of corrugated iron and sheet metal.

EMILIE, Nov. 11—Miss Dorothy Lovett's Sunday School class of girls was in charge of the Youth Fellowship's devotional meeting Sunday evening in Emilie Methodist Church.

Ethel Jaddock was in charge of the song service with Dorothy Lancaster assisting as pianist. Prayer was offered by Miss Lovett followed by the scripture reading by Barbara Sheldon. The topic was shared by Marie Baker and Barbara Sheldon. Dorothy Lancaster offered a ukulele solo, and Doris Sheldon an accordion solo. The collection was taken by Dorothy Baker.

Neshaminy Falls Woman Dies; Funeral Saturday

NESHAMINY FALLS, Nov. 11—Mrs. Mary Gray, aged 57, wife of Thomas Gray, died in Abington Memorial Hospital yesterday. She had resided here for over 20 years.

Mrs. Gray's survivors, in addition to her husband, are: a daughter, Miss Alma Gray, Neshaminy Falls; two sons, Edward, of Philadelphia; and Thomas, Jr., a member of the U. S. Army Air Corps, stationed in Tennessee; her mother, Mrs. Mary Schultz; and two sisters and a brother.

Solemn Requiem Mass is to be said in Our Lady of Grace Church, South Langhorne, on Saturday at 11 a. m. Interment in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Montgomery County, will be in charge of R. L. Horner, funeral director.

TO INSTALL OFFICERS

The Mothers' Association members will have officers installed this evening at a meeting in Bristol high school auditorium. The session will open at 8.15.

WAR BOND SALES TALKS MADE TO LARGE GROUPS OF DEFENSE WORKERS AND AT PUBLIC MEETING HELD HERE

Gloria Stuart, comely blonde motion picture star, won a few thousand more admirers, and pepped-up the sale of war bonds and stamps, in this area yesterday when she led a caravan through the lower end of Bucks County. She presented "Minute Man" flags and "Ten Per Cent Emblems" to the three plants of the Hunter Manufacturing Company in Bristol Township, and a "Minute Man" flag to the Badenhansen Corporation at Cornwells Heights, and a "Ten Per Cent Emblem" to the Manhattan Soap Co. She also visited the two plants of Fleetwings, Inc., and William H. Grundy Co., Inc., here, all of which had previously received the flags for the co-operation of their employees in the purchase of war bonds.

Accompanying Miss Stuart were James Gorman, U. S. Marines, home from the war nursing a badly injured left arm, Sgt. W. W. Harris, of Britain's Royal Marines; and Benjamin Ludlow, State Administrator of War Bond Sales in Pennsylvania.

Visiting a number of industries yesterday afternoon she addressed groups of war workers. At six o'clock, last evening, she was a guest of honor at dinner given by a Bristol committee in the Elks Home, and at eight o'clock, last evening, she talked to an audience in the Bristol high school auditorium.

Thousands Hear Gloria Stuart and Party Urge Bond Purchases

Miss Stuart won a few thousand more admirers when she spoke to the airplane builders at Fleetwings, Inc., and urged them to increase their purchase of War Bonds through the salary deduction plan to at least 10 per cent. At the conclusion of the pep talk that promises to produce the desired results, Miss Stuart was given a round of applause that would have drowned the roar of a fleet of bombers. And it was worth it, because her inspirational message hit home and painted a vivid picture of the real need for more funds to buy more bombs. She told the Fleetwingers:

"If ever you're tempted to hold back your money rather than purchase solid, substantial United States War Bonds and Stamps just think of the boys overseas. When they take a rifle in their hand and brave the bombs and bullets of the battlefield they know they're not expected to give just 8 per cent of their life, nor 10 per cent, nor 50 per cent. They know they'll have to give 100 per cent if it need be."

"We who are back home on the all-important production front should deem it a rare privilege to dig deep into our pockets and pay up for all the War Bonds we can possibly afford."

"Many of us have relatives and friends in the service—many of them fighting the battles of Guadalcanal and North Africa. We're proud of them and the showing they're making in defense of our homes and country. But we want them to be proud of us."

"WORK AS USUAL" IS THE ARMISTICE DAY KEYNOTE

War Plants and Many Other Industries Remain Open Throughout Day

"UNITY OF PURPOSE"

By International News Service
The 24th anniversary of the Armistice which ended the first world war was observed quietly today in Pennsylvania with "work as usual" the keynote of a nation again at war.

War plants, and many other industries, remained open throughout the day, although public buildings, banks and some private businesses were closed. Some schools, more than the usual number, remained open, and students were reminded of the significance of the day; others were closed.

All offices at the State Capitol, with the exception of the Selective Service Headquarters and the U. S. Employment Office, were closed. Gov. Arthur H. James was in Philadelphia, where he was to speak at the dedication of a tablet to the officers and men of the 109th Infantry who died in the last war. The tablet will be unveiled at the 103rd Engineers Armory.

In an Armistice Day proclamation, the Chief Executive called upon the Continued on Page Three

Brief Armistice Service Conducted by Local Post

A brief service in observance of Armistice Day was held this morning at 11 o'clock on the lawn of Robert W. Bracken Post Home, American Legion, Radcliffe street.

Two minutes of silence were observed in honor of those who have made the supreme sacrifice for their country. Taps were sounded by a member of the Cadet Drum and Bugle Corps.

Participating in the ceremony were the following post officials: Commander, Harold D. James; senior vice commander, Fred W. Bryner; junior vice commander, B. J. Murray; chaplain, the Rev. Arthur F. Gibson; adjutant, Jacob C. Schmidt, Jr.; also district deputy commander, William DeVoe.

Dinner Given in Honor of Gloria Stuart, Film Star

CARAVAN PROCEEDS TO HIGH SCHOOL FOLLOWING DINNER IN ELKS' HOME

A representative group of residents of Bristol and other communities of lower Bucks County had the pleasure and privilege last evening of dining with Gloria Stuart, motion picture star. Private James Gorman, of the U. S. Marine Corps; Sgt. W. W. Harris, of the Royal Marines of the British Empire; and individuals prominent in the state and county who are advancing the sales of United States war bonds and stamps.

The dinner, served in the social session room of the Elks home, followed a day crammed with visits to various industrial plants in this area; and preceded a mass meeting in the interest of bond sales promotion, held in Bristol high school auditorium.

Miss Stuart spoke briefly at this affair, she being introduced by the master of ceremonies, John Leslie Killoyne, Esq., chairman of the Bristol reception committee, following a formal welcome by former United States Senator Joseph R. Grundy.

In his introduction Mr. Killoyne referred to the blonde Miss Stuart as "the most unaffected, charming and intelligent young woman you would want to meet; and further than that she is patriotic from the top of her head to the soles of her feet to the nth degree."

Miss Stuart, after mentioning that countless introductions she has had appeared as "double-talk," remarked that her welcome by Senator Grundy "is the nicest I've ever had." Continuing she referred to the promotion Continued on Page Four

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1942

ARMISTICE DAY

Armistice Day this year, as for several years past, summons the sad thought that cessation of the world struggle twenty-four years ago was accompanied by the high hope of sane and constructive international relations over a long period of time.

Humankind generally anticipated
one of those beneficent eras of peace with which history has been too seldom punctuated, during which the earth's dwellers enjoy their highest standards of living and their longest strides in progress. That hope went glimmering when militarism and totalitarianism were harnessed to doctile peoples.

Since Japan went into Manchuria, Mussolini into Ethiopia and Hitler into Austria, the world has encountered disheartening times. The terminal of universal concord, always the highest goal of man, has retreated farther and farther. To reach it at all now great victories must be won on bloody battlefields by the United Nations. Instead of shrinking, the wreckage of war has been reaching out to include more and more nations. That phase is now upon humankind for an indeterminable period.

While attainment of peace this Armistice Day seems to be at the end of a weary road of wreckage and sacrifice, the human family has again as its only solace the belief in a final attainment of international sanity. Two great world holocausts within a single generation must be sufficient to call forth man's best talents to extinguish the searing flame of war.

MEDICINE AT THE FRONT

One of the pronounced developments of this war is the strides made in life-saving drugs and remedies.
Already some discoveries have been put to use with notable results.

Probably the most important of the discoveries on the medical front is penicillin, which is reported to be giving indications of being an even greater boon to humankind than the sulfa drugs. Penicillin is a germ killer made from fungus mold. It is 100 times more powerful than sulfa drugs and less toxic than any of them. Effective in dilutions as great as one part in 100,000,000, it can be injected directly into the veins and will check many bacteria against which sulfa drugs are ineffective.

One of these is the germ causing gasgangrene, a scourge of the battlefield.

Despite the higher effectiveness of penicillin, the sulfa drugs are rendering great service at the front.
Blood plasma, the dried white cell portion of human blood, and blood albumin, a concentrated fraction of human blood even less bulky than plasma, are together bringing the life-saving benefits of transfusions to the front lines. Vitamins are being used freely to promote wound healing.

The wounded in this war have a better chance of getting well, more will recover quickly and there will be a smaller proportion of permanent disabilities than in any war in which America was previously engaged.

The Gallup straw vote, which predicted very small gains for the Republicans, explaining that the Republican trend had been halted in October, now claims it was right because it was wrong.

too—and they will be proud of us
only if we send them the bullets, boats, airplanes and tanks that they need to follow through to victory.

"Then, too, we want to bring those brave men home as quickly as possible. We want to bring them back victorious from the swamps and stinking jungles of the South Pacific, and from the hot, scorching sands of the African desert. We can only contribute to that ultimate victory by working a few extra hours in our war production jobs, and by buying, buying, buying our country's war bonds and stamps."

J. Leslie Kilcoyne, Esq., chairman of the Reception Committee, served as master of ceremonies. He praised Fleetwings for the splendid showing the workers have made to date, but argued that the current average of eight per cent of payroll pledges be increased to at least 10 per cent.

Private Gorman, whose arm has been injured for several months and who will be on the sick list for several months to come, told of his brief experiences on the South Seas battlefronts. He reminded the workers that a bullet in an American gun costs just six cents, but that the Jap bullet which hit his arm probably cost much less because Japs work for a whole lot less than American laborers.

Ira Wilson, vice-president of Fleet-wings, welcomed the party and played host in the executive dining room at Plant Two when the rally was over.

Following luncheon at Fleetwings,
Plant No. 2, Miss Stuart and her party visited four local industries, Manhattan Soap Company, Wm. H. Grundy Company, Badenhausen Corp., Corn-wells Heights, and the Crofton and Emille plants of the Hunter Manufacturing Corp.

Miss Stuart was enthusiastically received by hundreds of workers and applauded vigorously when she petitioned them "give more than ten per cent of your payroll if you can. It is the very least that we on the home front can and must do to aid our fighting men on the front lines."

First stop on the afternoon itinerary was to the Manhattan Soap Co. Here the party was met by H. G. Fromm, plant superintendent, who conducted Miss Stuart and the group on a brief trip through the plant. In brief but inspiring ceremonies Miss Stuart presented the company with a ten per cent banner. The banner was accepted by Mr. Fromm. Willard Curtin, assistant district attorney of Bucks county, introduced Pvt. James Gorman, U. S.
Marines, and Sgt. W. W. Harris of the British Royal Marines. Jack McClain, former Manhattan employee, and wearing the uniform of the U. S. Navy, was also introduced. Benjamin Ludlow was introduced and spoke briefly.

The party then traveled to the mills of the Wm. H. Grundy Co., Inc. Here they were met by Louis C. Spring, superintendent, who had assembled the employees of the company in the inner yard of the plant. Pvt. Gorman and Sgt. Harris were introduced to the employees by Mr. Curtin. Miss Stuart was then presented, and told the employees: "Giving ten per cent of your earnings means everything to the boys in the armed services of our country.
It means guns, tanks, ammunition, a shorter war, and your freedom and my freedom."

State Administrator Ludlow reminded the employees that today marked the 167th anniversary of the U. S.
Marines. He praised their work and courage and pleaded for their support by the purchase of more bonds and stamps.

Next stop of the party was at the Badenhausen boiler works in Corn-wells Heights. Here an open-air ceremony was planned, but rain forced the employees and the bond caravan to seek the shelter of the huge X-ray room of the company. Plant Superintendent Elmer Vansant greeted Miss Stuart and her party. Preceding Miss Stuart's presentation of the "Minute Man Flag" to the company the assemblage joined in singing one stanza of the "Star-Spangled Banner."

Bucks County Detective Anthony Russo acted as master of ceremonies for the program. Russo first introduced Pvt. Gorman, who spoke briefly of his experiences in the Solomons and Guadalcanal. Gorman, 17 years of age when he enlisted in the U. S. Marines, was one of the original landing party at Guadalcanal on August 7th. While acting as a scout for his company he was wounded in the arm by a "Jap" sniper. He told the employees: "This war is no cinch. It is and will be a real fight. The boys in the service are ready to give their lives, so the least you can do is give ten per cent of your earnings."

Sgt. Harris, the British Marine, with 16 years of experience and three wars, was introduced next by Mr. Russo.
Sgt. Harris told the employees that the British people were full of gratitude for the aid the United States is giving them. He told of conditions in England since the war. He pointed out that everyone there is sacrificing. There are practically no luxuries and plenty of long hard work. Sgt. Harris pointed out that "in spite of the terrific sacrifices that the British people have been making and in spite of the terrible bombings to which they have been subjected, the spirit of the population in Britain is marvelous."

Miss Stuart told of the way of life of the Japanese which she observed on a trip through that country and other foreign countries in 1939. "In Japan the children are sold out to the manufacturers as life slaves," Miss Stuart said. "Conscripted and slave labor is their way of life. Here, in America, we are still free. But we in America must work and then work more and harder to keep this free way of life."

The Minute Man Flag was presented by Miss Stuart to Milton J. Miller, president of the Badenhausen Employees' Beneficial Association. He introduced, in behalf of the plant, presented Miss Stuart with a beautiful bouquet of cut flowers. Pvt. Gorman was presented with a pen and pencil set by the association.

At the Crofton plant of the Hunter
Manufacturing Co. a Minute Man Flag and the 10 per cent pennant was presented by Miss Stuart to F. R. Manchester, director of personnel. Pvt.
Gorman and Sgt. Harris were introduced to the employees of the Crofton plant. Mr. Ludlow urged the employees to "wear your 10 per cent bottom and remind others that they, too, should be giving 10 per cent or more of their pays for bonds and stamps."

Following the ceremonies at the Crofton plant the party then traveled to the Emille plant of the Hunter Co. Harry Oliver, representative of the Bath Road plant of the company, was presented by Miss Stuart with a Minute Man Flag and the 10 per cent emblem, while Joseph Valenti received the same emblems for the Emille plant of the company. Pvt. James Gorman, Sgt. Harris and Benjamin Ludlow, all introduced to the Emille plant employees by Anthony Russo, spoke briefly.

Arrangements for the caravan to visit lower Bucks County originated here several weeks ago when a committee was named at the suggestion of Harold VanKirk, chairman of Lower Bucks County War Bond Committee.
This original meeting was called by Anthony Russo, who named the following committee: Clifford L. Anderson, chairman; J. Leslie Kilcoyne, Esq., Senator Howard I. James, Thomas James, Postmaster Joseph P. Duffy, Arnold Barea, Bristol; Elmer Vanzant,
Cornwells Heights; Horace Cooper,

Langhorne; Rev. Arthur F. Gibson,
Eddington; Willard S. Curtin, Esq., Morrisville.

Burgess Anderson, in his capacity of chairman of the general committee, named three as a reception committee.
This committee consists of J. Leslie Kilcoyne, Esq., and Anthony Russo, of Bristol; and Willard S. Curtin, Morrisville, assistant district attorney of Bucks County.

CHICAGO—(INS)—The well known term, "Shavetail" which applies with equal force to the Army mule or the lowest Army commissioned grade of second Lieutenant, goes way back to 1870.

Mules received the Army invented cognomen by virtue of their tails, smooth to the tufted tip. A few years later, according to research at the University of Chicago, the same term was applied to second lieutenants.

GOLDEN LADY by Clarence Budington Kelland

CHAPTER ONE

DARNLEY CARFAX discovered during her seventeenth year that beauty was a peculiar commodity. It caused quite different reactions in a man than in a woman. In the presence of any beautiful girl a man would go all silly, like a cat with a catnip mouse.
On the other hand, a woman would narrow her lips and her eyes and hold her head as if she had been sitting in a draft and got a pain in the neck.

She discovered that homely girls or dowdy girls could get more favors from women. She found out that it was a personal affront to any woman to be more beautiful or mod-ish than she. But that a lumpy girl with a muddy skin and onion eyes had as much chance of getting anything out of a man as a radish has of getting into a strawberry short-cake.

Darnley pondered this matter.
This pondering took place after she became possessed of the idea that she might be beautiful herself. She was not quite sure of the fact, but her observations caused her to wonder whether it was an asset or a liability. From a practical standpoint, was it better to delight men and to throw women into a fury; or to be ignored by the male sex and have the women on

Today's Quiet Moment

(By the Rev. James R. Galley)
Pastor, Bristol Presbyterian Church

We thank thee, O Father, for thy providence; that through the years thou art always by our side, and that in due time the ends of thy purpose will be established. We thank thee that all former conflicts on the earth were brought to a close by thy providence. We are grateful for the lives which were sacrificed in them, and for the purposes which were accomplished in them. Grant, O God, that this present conflict will soon be brought to a conclusion, and that through it we might receive blessings of which we had never dreamed, and which now, in the darkness of the conflict we cannot see. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Careful Planting Saves Bulbs from Frost Peril

Fall bulbs are the easiest of garden subjects to grow. Like soldiers in the field, they carry food rations with them; they blossom in the spring before weeds and insects begin to bother; and it is almost impossible to plant them without some kind of success when spring rolls around.

Nevertheless care in planting will reduce hazards, and one of the greatest hazards to newly planted bulbs is provided by frost action. Alternate freezing and thawing of moist soil, contracts and expands it, producing an effect which gardeners call "heaving." Shallow rooted plants are often pushed out of the ground by this "heaving" until their roots are entirely exposed. When soil has been newly turned, this action is exaggerated, and bulbs which have not been planted deeply enough may be lifted up to the surface.

The remedy is to be sure your bulbs are planted the proper depth, and then after the ground has been frozen, cover it with a mulch of leaves, or similar substance, which will shade the soil from the winter sun, and prevent the thawing out which causes heaving.

A good rule to follow when in doubt is to plant on the deep side. In other words, less harm will be done by planting too deep than too shallow.

When it is intended to allow tulips to remain where you plant them several years rather than dig them up after they have blossomed and their leaves have turned yellow each summer, they should be planted two or three inches deeper than the normal depth. Deep planting may cause flowering to be somewhat later, so all bulbs which it is desired shall blossom at the same time should be planted the same depth.

TULIPS - 6 INCHES

Madonna lilies are an exception to the general practice with lilies. They should not be covered more than three inches.

Drainage is an important part of any bulb planting, and every precaution should be taken to avoid standing water, or over-soaked beds, which will cause rotting of the bulbs. In cases where doubt arises as to what will occur during the wet days of early spring, or where the soil is particularly heavy, raise the bed about 6 inches from the level of the garden.

Bulbs do not need a very rich soil, as they have considerable food stored up in themselves. An application of plant food will, however, help them to produce bigger flowers. Do not apply a barnyard manure, as they have a particular aversion to it.

ago. The directors include Edward Barnsley, who was named president; Mrs. Franklin J. Linton, secretary; Mrs. W. A. Roberts, treasurer; and Mrs. Mary Waugh, Mrs. Ella Janney, Miss Mary Walker and Mrs. Herman Barnsley.

Some shareholders have resigned or moved, but 17 new ones have been added regularly. A set of Encyclopedia Britannica was bought during the year.

Justice of the Peace William Wrigley's court in Edison was the scene of a number of hearings over the weekend.

Samuel Bove, 21, Willow Grove, who was arrested last Saturday by Game Protector George Freas, on a charge of refusing to show a hunting license when requested, was committed to the Bucks County Prison for 23½ days. He remained in jail about six hours and then paid the fine and costs amounting to $23.50, after which he was discharged. Bove was arrested in the Warrington section.

Vincenzo Fortunato, Philadelphia, charged with being an alien in possession of a shot gun, was also arrested by Game Protector Freas. Justice Wrigley fined him $25 and costs. The arrest was made in Warwick township.

Charged with being in possession of a loaded shotgun in a motor vehicle on the highway, Ernest Lehmann, 33, Rushland, was arrested Saturday by Game Protector Freas. He was re-

State to observe the day with reverence and to "devote our hearts and minds . . . to unity of purpose." Said the Governor: "Let us have an armistice on the home front during which all public and private acts may be weighed on the balance of a single question: 'Will it help win the war?'"

Governor-elect Edward Martin observed the day in his home county of Washington, after reviewing an armistice day parade in Pittsburgh in the morning. In the afternoon he was to be the guest of American Legion Post No. 22 of Charleroi at a joint Armistice Day observance held by the communities of Charleroi, Monessen, Monongahela, Donora and Washington.

In a pre-Armistice Day address at Washington, Pa., Martin told war veterans that "we are not winning the war, but we will win it. Our aim must be to shorten the war . . . Every man, woman and child in Pennsylvania must produce, must make some effort."

Notably missing from the Armistice Day observance at the State Capital was the traditional parade of veterans of the last war. The procession has been called off for the duration.

The Philadelphia observance will reach its high point with a parade honoring 18 and 19-year-old Army volunteers. Immediately afterwards, a large group of youths will be sworn in at Independence Hall.

START PLANS TO FORM BASKETBALL LEAGUE FOR SEASON

Five Teams Meet and Decide To Hold Another Meeting

CLUBS ASKED TO JOIN
Clubs Interested Are Asked To Meet Tomorrow Night

Five teams were represented at a meeting of the Bristol Basketball League held last night in the St. Ann's club-house. Thomas Juno, president, presided, and Paul Voltz recorded the minutes.

Last season the circuit was composed of eight clubs and as all clubs had not received notification of the meeting, it was decided to hold another one tomorrow night at the same place. At this time, discussions will take place on the formation of the league for this season.

A representative of the Hunter Manufacturing Company was present and entered their club into the first opening. The application was accepted.

Paul Voltz and Thomas Juno will contact the various teams in this section to ascertain whether an eight-team league could be formed. Joseph Diamanti and Paul Voltz were appointed on the playing floor committee.

Any club interested in entering the league is requested to get in touch with either Paul Voltz, secretary, or Thomas Juno, president.

Teams represented were: Diamond, Joseph Diamanti; Profy's, Ray Nichols; Hunter's, Joseph Valenti; Voltz-Texaco, Paul Voltz; Rohm and Haas, Robert Weideman.

of bond sales, stating that "It is a marvelous piece of work your committee has done for us today. Anything we have accomplished is entirely due to their efforts." She paid high tribute to Benjamin Ludlow, Pennsylvania State Administrator for the U. S. Treasury, referring to his untiring efforts in the cause as "most enthusiastic and unselfish."

In his welcome, Mr. Grundy expressed gratification at the manner in which the young men and women are coming to the fore in the present crisis, "taking the positions that some of us filled in the time of World War I." Mr. Grundy contrasted what has happened in Europe and the life that is enjoyed in the United States. "The privileges and joys of a democracy stand out in bold relief when we compare them with conditions abroad. I hope posterity will enjoy the liberties and opportunities and prosperity that we have enjoyed." To Miss Stuart he said "You are doing a wonderful job for a wonderful country."

It was announced that Burgess Clifford L. Anderson was unable to attend due to illness.

Rousing applause greeted Pvt. Gorman, who had enlisted in the Marine Corps at the age of 17 years, and who was wounded at Guadalcanal. He carried his left arm in a sling. Sgt. Harris was also warmly welcomed. He has been in service for the past 16 years, and had been actively engaged in the present war since it started. Sgt. Harris is still attached to the same ship on which he embarked at the start of the war.

The blessing was asked by the Rev. Arthur F. Gibson, of Eddington. A dinner was served to 72, they being seated at long tables which were decorated with centerpieces of vari-colored chrysanthemums.

The charming Miss Stuart, who is giving freely of her time in the bond sale cause was attired in a dress of blue silk crepe, and gray Persian lamb coat. On her blonde hair, arranged in a long bob, she wore a red felt hat with fringe of the felt. This harmonized with her red leather bag and slippers. Her corsage was of lavender-toned orchids.

The caravan was escorted by the Legion Cadets from the Elks Home to the Bristol High School.

Miss Stuart addressed the meeting in the high school auditorium, as did also Private Gorman and Sergeant Harris. Private Gorman described how when the Marines are engaged in battle they often have to go without water to drink, food to eat and suffer other privations. "But the greatest disappointment of all is when you are waiting for a ship to arrive with reinforcements and supplies and it does not arrive," he said.

Private Gorman pleaded with his audience to back up the boys by the purchase of bonds so that they will have food, and the other necessities of war. "It is up to you," he said. "It is everybody's war. You can fight, too. Buy bonds."

Sergeant Harris, who has seen 16 years of service in the Royal Marines, told in a most interesting manner of the way in which the people of Great Britain are aiding the war effort. He also spoke of the pleasure of the English people when they learned of the lend-lease act and how they appreciated the aid and assistance of the people of the United States.

Stresses Part That Strong Morale Plays

win this war. What troubles us is that in twenty or thirty years we may have to do it all over again. We were assured that permanent peace would follow World War I, but we were very much deceived. The prospect of an endless series of conflicts is more than a little depressing. The majority of experts, however, agree that war can be abolished.

But, how?—That is the problem which we must face. We must have something to want to live for.

It is up to us as future men and women, leaders of democracy, to understand fully and from the beginning, the effect morale has upon establishing world peace and in winning not partial but complete victory for ourselves. Morale consists of many emotions. These emotions can and must be controlled. On the whole, men do not so much think things out as they rely upon emotion and prejudice for their decisions.

We must be prepared to go into the class rooms of the Axis nations where it is taught that the principles of savagery and might are all that are needed for success. We must be prepared to change the views of these young people and to plant the ideals of democracy firmly in their minds. These things we must have in mind, not the idea of killing off or rendering helpless all the people of the aggressive nations. A thorough understanding of the ideals of democracy and the principles behind them must be taught to the citizens of the United States from the very beginning.

With our country at war there are very few of us whose usual manner of living will remain undisturbed. We will be called upon to render many voluntary services and perform new and different duties. Yet our contribution to the war effort compared to the sacrifices of the armed forces will seem as nothing.

We must safeguard the emotional stability of our nation. We must learn to be calm, to wholly avoid disruptive controversies, and to control our prejudices. The most heroic act of patriotism that anyone can perform is to be quiet. If we have any fears or doubts, let us keep them to ourselves, let us not pass them on to anyone else for contemplation or worry.

The armed forces need to be sure be careful and not get the dates mixed, that the people they are fighting for are loyal and confident. The civilian who wants to see the morale of the armed forces survive must first build up his own morale.

Our enemy wants to make us conscious of all our differences of creed, color, and culture; and to make us forget the similarity of our needs, and aims.

It is up to us to see that our enemies' wishes are not fulfilled and that by working to the full extent to help the war effort in school as well as outside and by maintaining high morale, we can help beat the enemy and obtain and maintain the victory which is due us and is sure to come.

Forms Now Ready For The Registration of Passenger Cars

Inspectors are requested to apply to the Board for a sufficient number to supply their customers. Owners of cars may also apply for the forms at the Rationing Office and any information desired will be gladly given.

All dealers who have a State license are qualified to act as inspectors without any additional certification from the local Board.

Inasmuch as the registration is only a week hence, the Board urges the owners of vehicles to begin the compilation of the information wanted at once and thus be ready when the registration begins. While the date for the inspection is set for December 1, there is nothing to prevent the examination being made sooner. Applicants should be sure be careful and not get the dates mixed.

The registration will take place in certain school buildings on November 19-20. On December 1, the inspection of tires by certified inspectors will begin. Every two months after December 1 another inspection will be made.

The lower part of the form which will be torn off and kept by the owner of the car must be carefully preserved so that it can be presented to the inspector for his notation when he makes his subsequent inspections. Each inspector's record, which is the name of the car, will last for one year and when completed will contain six inspections.

The maximum fees for the inspection of tires will be as follows: On-the-wheel inspection, twenty-five cents. This means that if the numbers on the tires can be obtained from the ground and the condition of the tires can be judged without removing them from the rims, then the charge cannot exceed twenty-five cents. If the tires must be dismounted from the rims then a charge of fifty cents can be made for each tire.

The following applications for rationing must be made on another form which has not yet been received:

- 1—An ambulance or hearse.
- 2—A vehicle held by a dealer for sale or resale or operated on a dealer's license.
- 3—A taxi, jitney, or vehicle leased from or held for rental by a rental agency.
- 4—A vehicle owned or leased by the Federal, State, local or foreign Government or Governmental agency.
- 5—A vehicle which is one of three or more passenger automobiles owned or occupational purposes of the same or leased by and used for the business person or organization.

by a Philadelphia-built destroyer

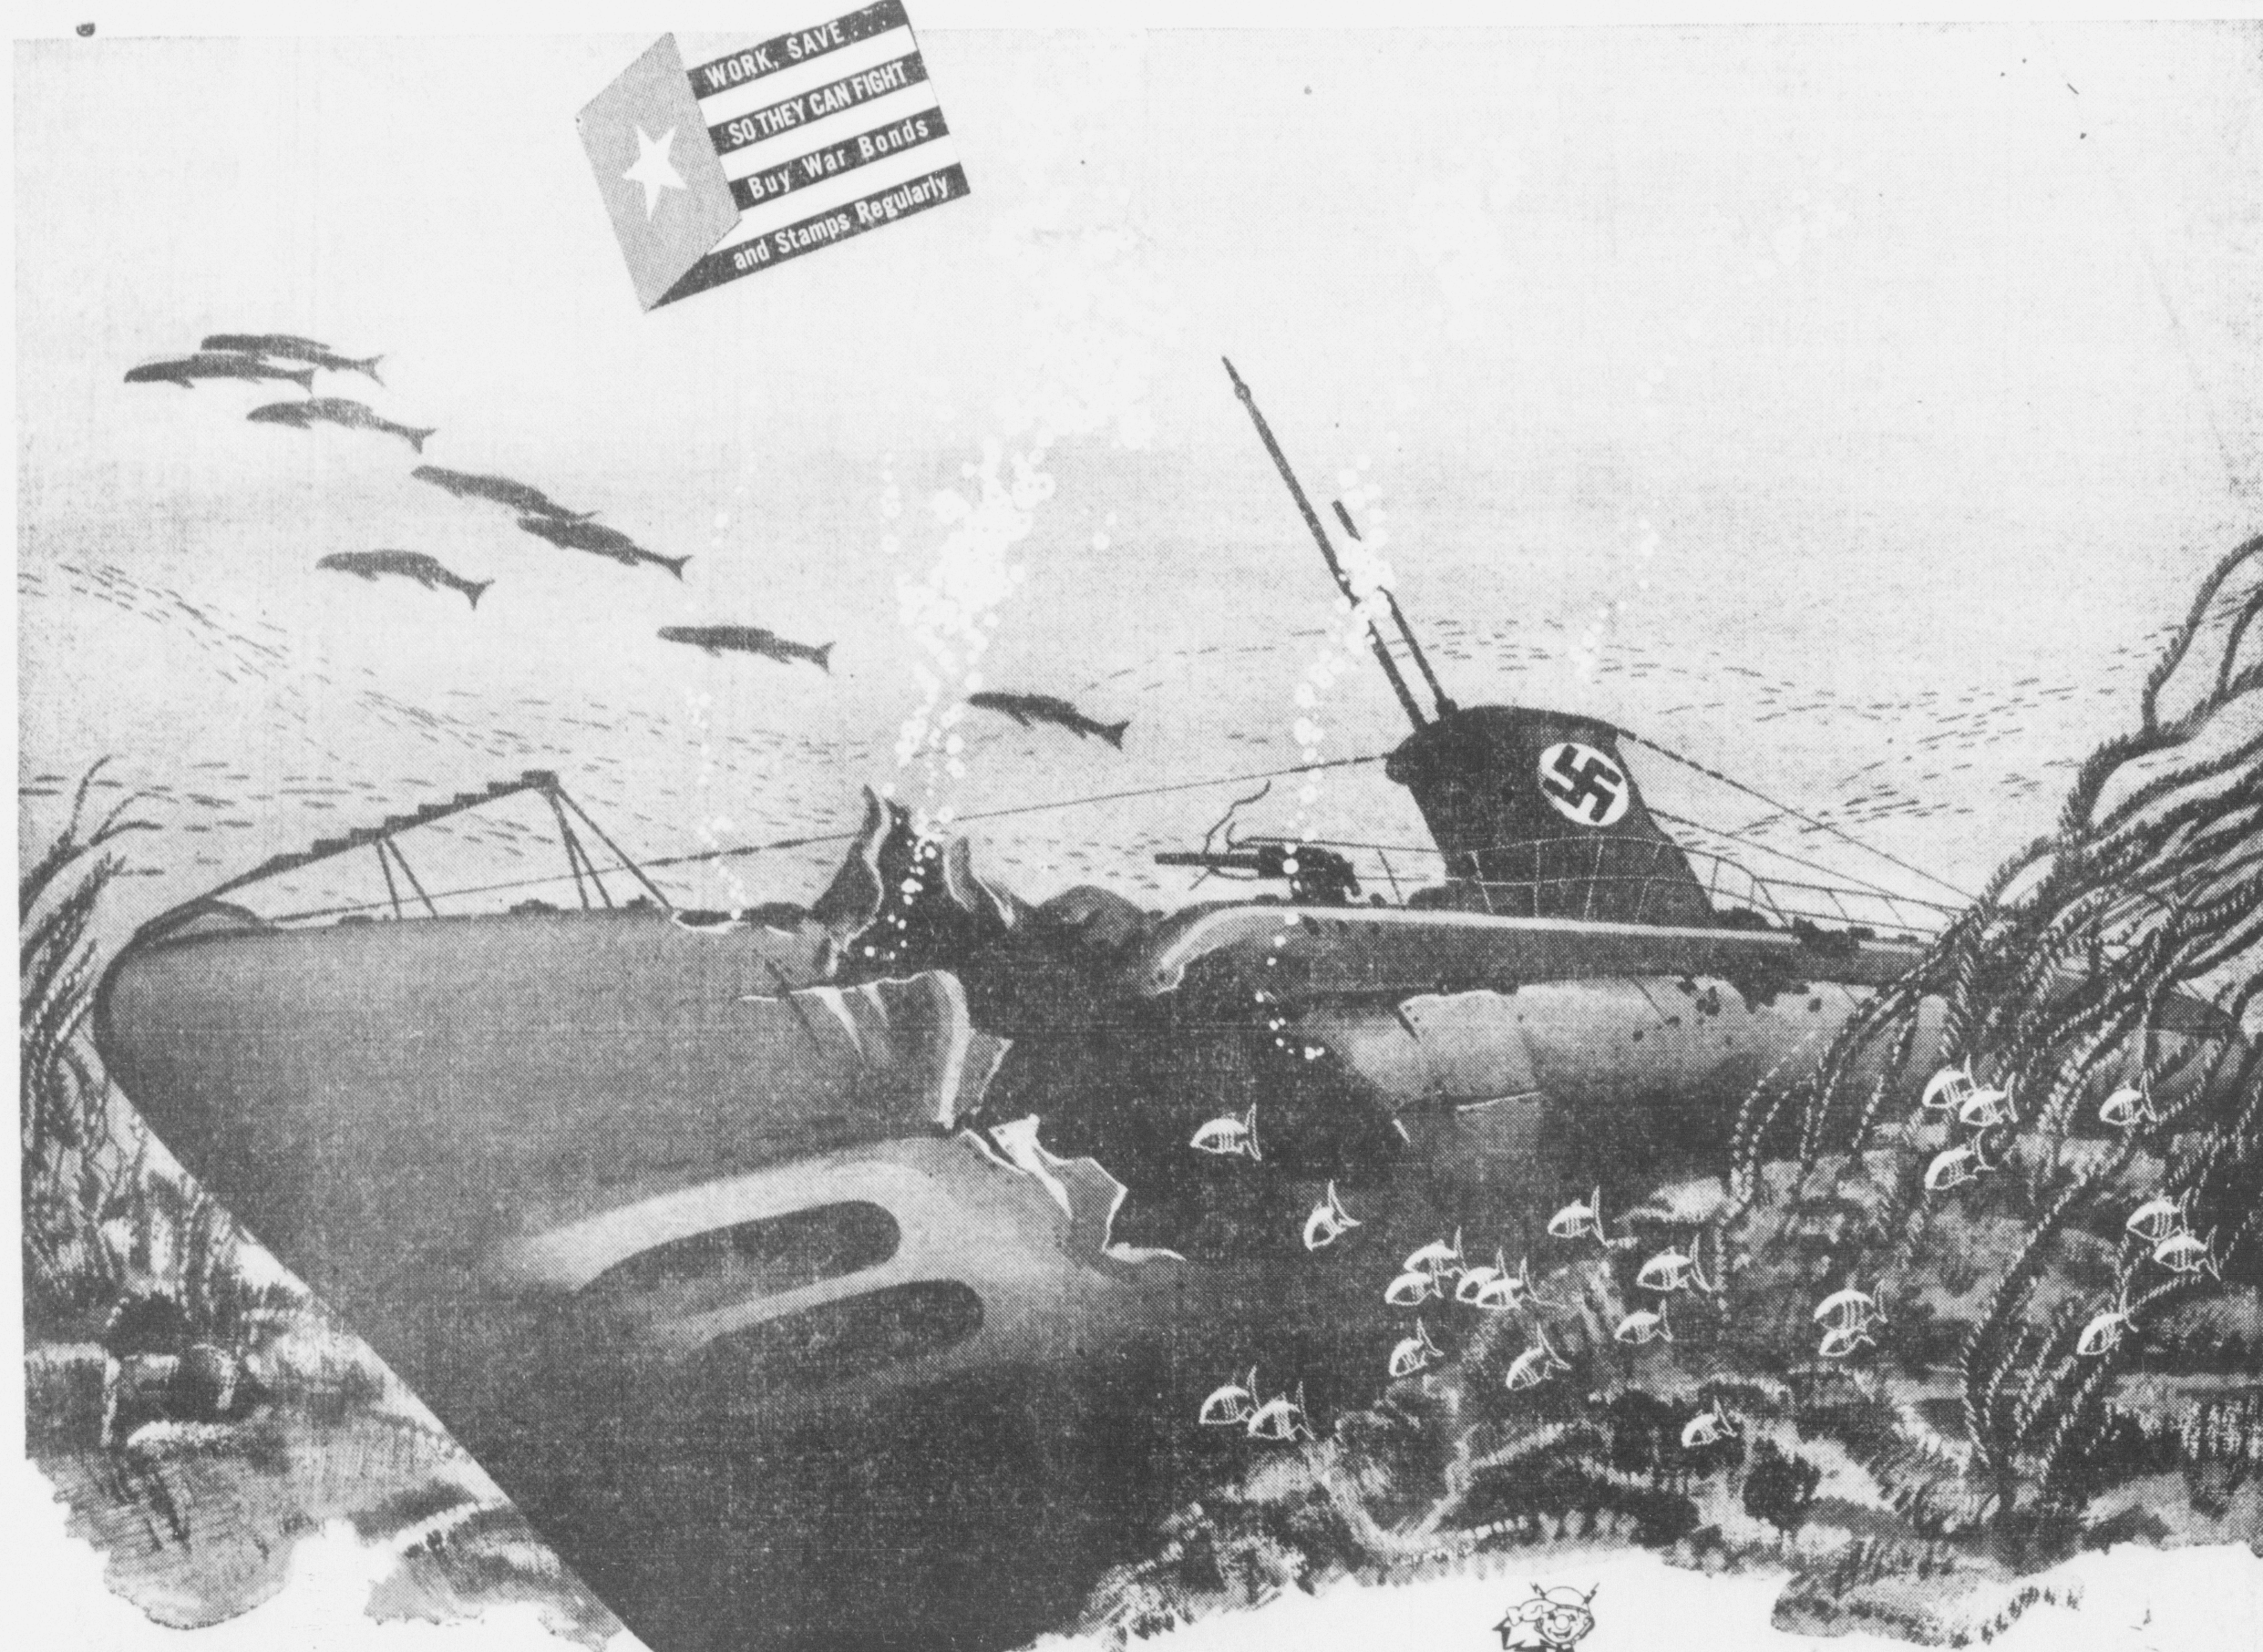

"SUB SIGHTED!" Hardly had the radio warning come crackling from the idling blimp before planes roared into the sky and destroyers skimmed like arrows across the water.

With the first warning, the guardians of America's coastline went full speed into action and with them went Greater Philadelphia.

The radio instruments that sounded the call, destroyers, depth charges... you can count them all among the thousand and one implements of war that are pouring from factories in the Greater Philadelphia area to Democracy's fighting men everywhere. Pouring forth in an ever-mounting wave for our ever-growing fighting forces.

So that the Victory may be sooner, workers in this 5-County area are straining every skill twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week to make sure the men in the thick of it have more of these fighting tools than they expected, sooner than they expected.

This urge for "more" and "sooner" is shared by all... by us of the Philadelphia Electric, whose job it is to furnish the ever-increasing flow of electricity, no less than by you war workers who use it. We have joined hands with you in a solemn compact to keep production in this five-county area rolling at top speed, come what may; and to do all we can to assure you the convenience and comfort of electricity in your homes.
